

This Vote Not Good After Oct. 10, 1898. No Line of Pianos have ever attracted more attention than that found at Perry Brothers' Music Store.

THE KNABE Can show more artistic worth than any piano made today, while the Vose, Briggs and Ludwig are gaining a substantial reputation here as any piano made. We are loyal to these excellent instruments, and have handled them from 10 to 14 years.

GIST OF THE GAME LAWS

Comprehensive Resume of Them Furnished for the Benefit of Sportsmen—Season for Various Kinds of Game.

So many incorrect synopsis of the game laws of Pennsylvania have been published recently heretofore that at the request of a number of local sportsmen The Tribune gives below a comprehensive resume of the laws with reference to fishing and hunting. It will be a convenient thing for sportsmen to cut out and paste in their hats:

Hunting deer, elk or fawn out of season, or hunting them with the aid of dogs is subject to a penalty of $100. Hunting deer, elk or fawn for the purpose of marketing them is subject to a $100 penalty, and the same offense in the case of wild turkeys, pheasants, grouse, quail, partridges or woodcock, is punishable by a fine of $25.

To ship game out of the state carries with it a penalty of not less than $50 and not more than $100. Mongolian, Chinese and English pheasants are protected until January 1, 1899.

It is unlawful for a hunter to kill, in one day, more than ten ruffed grouse or fifteen quail, or ten woodcock, or two wild turkeys, or one yearling moose, or two deer, elk or fawn. The penalties range from $25 to $100.

Song birds must not be molested in any way. Hunting pheasant at night is punishable by a fine of $10.

Hunting on Sunday is punishable by a $25 fine. Web-footed fowl are protected except between September 1 and April 30 and it is unlawful to hunt them in a boat propelled by steam or sail.

No game shall be killed by any means except a gun. Fish shall be taken only with a pole, hook and line, except eels, suckers and codfish, which may be taken in open seasons.

Streams other than trout streams, (shad, herring and sturgeon fishing are special) provided for.

Streams are protected between February 1 and June 1. Trout less than five inches in length may be taken.

The open seasons are as follows: Turkeys—Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Ducks—Sept. 1 to May 1. Pheasants—July 1 to Oct. 1. Woodcock—Month of July, and Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Quail—Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Pheasants—Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Reed Birds—Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. Elk and Deer—Month of November. Squirrels—Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Hares and Rabbits—Nov. 1 to Dec. 5.

A LETTER FROM HON. ALEX CONNELL ADVISES GOLD SEEKERS TO AVOID THE KLONDIKE.

Like Everywhere Else It Is a Good Place to Make Money If You Have Money—The Booming of Transportation Companies and Canadian Officials Is Nothing Less Than Criminal He Says—It Has Brought Fifty Thousand Other Suckers There Besides Himself.

Yesterday afternoon's mail brought to Attorney F. W. Fletts a letter from Hon. Alex T. Connell in the Klondike. It was posted at Dawson city on August 17 and was post marked at Dyea, Alaska, on September 24, and reached Scranton yesterday at 10 a. m. The letter is as follows:

Sixty-Mile Creek, Northwest Territory, Tuesday, August the Something, Don't Know the Date.

Well I am here and a mighty hard time I had in getting this far. The weather is simply delightful, your health is good, and our appetites ravenous, but the country has been outrageously advertised. The action of the Canadian government through its agents in Dawson, and the transportation companies is almost criminal in advertising this country as they have. You remember how the "find" spoke of the rich "finds" made on 149 Salmon, Little Salmon, Pelly, Stewart, and other rivers—well, the fact of the matter is that there has not been a "find" up to the present time on any of the rivers mentioned. Of course, there may be gold found there sometime, and I think it probable that "finds" will be made on these rivers later on, but that doesn't give the government the right to fool people by promulgating misrepresentations. I haven't any "thing" yet; neither has fifty or six hundred other suckers, but I am going to keep on hunting for it.

MONEY WILL MAKE MONEY. It is the same here as elsewhere; in that money will make money. The man with a few thousand dollars in cash can make money here. However, I am here now, and it will not be my own fault if I do not make a strike. I have worked as long as twenty hours a day and am tired to bed and tried to sleep, but I came here to work, you know, and intend to keep it up until I make a strike.

All the rivers and tributaries on which the yellow metal has been found in paying quantities are staked and have been for months. Five thousand dollars will buy a one-hour stake in an excellent claim here. The owner is actually too lazy to work. I worked six hours thinking it might be "salted" and actually it would make you money. I have washed how well each pan washed out. In the six hours I worked I took out five ounces and three pennynights of gold. I satisfied myself thoroughly that the shaft, or rather hole, was not "salted," and if I had had the money I should have invested in that half interest. I also had another claim on which I could make from $12 to $13 a day for $250. But what's the use of talking about money when I have to hunt for gold and I mean to discover my own mine.

I have prospected the following streams with hundreds of men, and I have seen some gold but not enough to earn bread and butter at the prices out here: Nis-cuthin, Hudson, Hotelling, Lewis, Polly Sibley, Sixty-Mile, Indian, Twenty-Mile and their tributaries are the ones I followed and I can say that there has not been a single "find" made on any of them.

HAD A LONG WALK. I have just returned from a two weeks' trip up Sixty-Mile and am pretty tired. We went up about forty-five miles, and had to walk in the river more than half the way. The soil of one of the islands, or came loose, and sand and gravel worked in and out my foot in terrible shape, so that it bled at times across my knee. I am happy and hopeful, more hopeful than ever. I saw a man drowned on the Hotelling river. We upset our boat the same day and I saw a man die, but fortunately we had money enough left to replenish our stock of eatables. Prices here are simply outrageous. When we left Teslin about a week ago, a barrel of rice, $30 per sack. Bacon was $1.25 per pound; rice, beans, sugar, were $1 a pound each. Hundreds and hundreds have lost their outfits and many have lost their lives, but if I only had a respectable claim to settle down on, so that I would not have to keep tramping around this cursed country, I would be happy. Mosquitoes and "punkies" are the curse of this country in summer.

They are here by the millions and the torture they cause is something terrible. I have seen big strong men actually sit down and cry with pain. They are enough to drive a man insane. They get into our mouths, eyes, ears, nose and into our coffee and everything we eat.

This is a great country geographically and an awful one to live in. They have a sleep on snow, in swamps, on sand and gravel bars, but still have kept our nerve. We sledged our outfit over six and one-half feet of snow and made a trail 25 miles, "packed" it on our backs thirty-three miles, and then lost it in the river, twenty-seven hundred pounds of valuable merchandise, but even that has not discouraged us.

I have heard no news from Pennsylvania since I received your last letter last April, and am anxious to know who the Republican candidates are for the state and local offices.

GIVES SOME ADVICE. If you know of any of your friends who are thinking of coming out here, advise them not to come unless they have at least $5,000. There is gold here and lots of it, but it is all confined to a few streams. No new discoveries have been made this year, the Coast newspapers to the contrary notwithstanding. You cannot get a single paper on the coast to publish the truth about the Klondike. They printed a story about the mother lode having been found, and to give it

RELEASED ON BAIL. Clearly a Bailable Offense Judge Gunster Said—Fixed the Amount of Bail at Two Thousand Dollars.

Edward Moran, of Mohawk street, Providence, who is charged with the killing of Thomas Gilligan, on West Market street, on the night of Sept. 17, was released from jail yesterday on $2,000 bail.

A hearing was had on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Gunster at 2 o'clock. Hon. J. C. Vaughan and Joseph O'Brien of O'Brien & Kelly, were present as Moran's representatives. Attorney James H. Shea, of Wilkes-Barre, appeared as private counsel for the prosecutor and assisted Assistant District Attorney Thomas in conducting the hearing for the prosecutor.

Michael McGuire, Patrolman John Saltry and James Gunning repeated the stories of the affair as given at the coroner's inquest. Judge Gunster asked if there was any testimony to change the view of the case gleaned from the evidence so far heard. Mr. Thomas said there wasn't as far as he knew. Judge Gunster said: "This is clearly a bailable offense" and directed the Clerk of the Courts Daniels to prepare a bail plea.

He fixed the bail at $2,000. Mr. Shea stated that the friends of Gilligan thought this bail was insufficient and asked that it be increased. Judge Gunster, however, referred to his view that $2,000 was high enough.

Michael Hoban, of Providence, and John Boies, of Chinchilla, qualified as bondsmen.

Moran was present during the hearing. He sat in a chair alongside Warden Simpson, resting his chin on his hand and keeping his eyes fixed on the floor. He was escorted from the court house by a large crowd of his relatives.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. Another large note was yesterday filed against the Maitland Driving Park association. It is for $62 and is drawn in favor of D. L. Potter.

The surety case of Daisy Copp against Fred Copp was dismissed by Judge Archibald yesterday, and testimony ordered the release of William A. Moore, who was sent to the county jail three months ago upon his neglect to contribute $10 a month to the support of his wife pursuant to a decree in desertion proceedings, which she instituted against him. The court says it is satisfied that Moore cannot comply with the decree in question.

Reduced Excursion Rates to Middletown, Pa. It is announced by the Central Railroad of New Jersey that reduced rates of $5.54 will be made from Scranton to Middletown, Pa. (Camp Meade) and return, to allow persons an opportunity to visit that spot and see the soldiers just returned from the war with Spain in Cuba. The best idea of camp life among the regular and volunteer students, pupils may register at any time. Carter building, Adams avenue and Linden street.

Pianoforte School. The Jervis-Hardenbergh piano school offers greatest advantages to the piano student. Pupils may register at any time. Carter building, Adams avenue and Linden street.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes People Well.

The one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. S. D., of Dartmouth college first prescribed what is now known as Paine's celery compound, and it has since been a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

greater force they published the discoverer's photo and name and residence. Now, I can say to you in all truth and candor that it is an amazing fact indeed. I am here on the ground and know what I am talking about. No new discoveries have been made this year, but if your humble servant's shoes hold out, you on the house of the defendant. The principal contractor defaulted and Brown ceased work. The defendants, it is alleged, came to Brown at this juncture and told him to go ahead with the work and they would see to it that he was paid. He finished the job but the defendants repudiated the bill, saying that they had made any such agreement. The jury believed such an agreement was entered into and rendered a verdict in the plaintiff's favor of $25.90, the full amount of the claim.

Judge Searle has before him in No. 2 the case of C. Gerow against the C. M. Haggood Shoe company. It is an interpleader to recover store goods.

The plaintiff is a merchant in Oneonta, N. Y. He opened a store in Carbondale and placed E. F. Riefenberg in charge. The Haggood company seized upon the goods for a bill which F. L. Riefenberg owed them and caused them to be sold. Gerow now comes in to claim the goods as his.

The defense is that F. L. Riefenberg is the real owner of the goods in question, and that the interpleader proceedings are concocted to save the goods. Attorney Palmer, of Oneonta, is one of the plaintiff's counsel.

The case of A. L. Rhodes against O. E. Vaughan is on before Judge Archibald. Mr. Rhodes, who is a Gouldsboro farmer, sues Mr. Vaughan, who is a Moscow merchant for a bill of goods. Mr. Vaughan opposes the claim with an offset. This offset is a team of oxen which Mr. Rhodes sold him for "Al Cattie" and which he avers were so physically dilapidated that for several days after they were delivered they were unable to get on their feet and had to have their fodder carried to them in the pasture.

The case of Patrick Fitzpatrick against James Kelly was referred, by agreement, to Attorney James E. Watkins.
